

Volunteering

The committee would like to extend their warmest welcome to anyone who would like to join the St Patrick's Day Committee to help organise future parades. The event is getting larger each year and we require more people to help organise and bring the whole day together.

We are always interested in new people joining the committee to help in whatever capacity they can. We must stress though that you must be willing to give your commitment, time and energy, as all organisation for the day is done in people's spare time.
