

Planning for St.Patrick's Day...

...happens the day after the last St.Patrick's Day.

The committee of volunteers are busy in the planning of the next Nottingham parade and open-air concert and active participation by bands and groups is gaining momentum. St. Patrick's Day in Nottingham is now one of the main cultural events of the year and the new Market Square is an ideal space to receive the parade and spacious enough to accommodate the open-air concert.

But the logistics of security, staging, lighting & sound, crowd management etc have to be planned for. If you would like to volunteer to help make this year's celebrations a success (or if you would just like some more information) please contact us.
